In Celebration

The flowers on the altar are given by Curtis and Barbara Hughes in celebration of their 63rd wedding anniversary.

The red rose on the altar is in celebration of the birth of Maxwell Clark Sprinkel, son of Clark and Jennifer Sprinkel and grandson of Sarah Sprinkel.

Today we celebrate and honor all the men who play, or have played, a vital role in the growth of our younger generation. You do not have to be a father to have an impact on the lives of our children. Enjoy this day!

COME AND JOIN US FOR COFFEE HOUR immediately following worship in Fellowship Hall.

WHAT WE KNOW: Elizabeth Robbins Hooker was the wife of the first pastor of First Congregational Church of Winter Park, Reverend Edward Payson Hooker, and that she initiated the first meeting of the Winter Park Library (Winter Park Circulating Library Association) in her home on December 9, 1885. Beyond that, very little has been excavated about Mrs. Hooker until now. After performing a cursory search, Lizzie appears to be a fascinating individual with a wonderful story. After all, one of her very best friends and bridesmaids was noted feminist and author Elizabeth Stuart Phelps. Uncovering Lizzie Robbins Hooker's story will provide a narrative and clarity not only for the archives of First Congregational Church of Winter Park, but also "HerStory" will be eagerly embraced by Winter Park Library and Rollins College. Telling Lizzie's story will explore the 19th century feminist narrative.

Our first meeting will be a spirited roundtable to explore 19th Century Winter Park. Invited experts who will wish us well on our journey are:

- Rick Baldwin, CEO, President of Baldwin Brothers Cremation Society and Founder of Baldwin Fairchild Funeral Homes and Cemeteries of Orlando
- Professor Ashley French, Women's Studies Department, Rollins College
- Dr. Jack Lane, Alexander Weddell Professor of American History, Emeritus, and Rollins College Historian
- Randy Noles, CEO, Publisher, Editor of Winter Park Magazine
- Dr. Wenxian Zhang, Professor and Head of Archives & Special Collections at Olin Library, Rollins College

Suggested Readings for our first meeting as of May 28, 2022:

Rollins College Centennial History: A Story of Perseverance (1885-1985) by Dr. J. Lane

HISTORY - Winter Park Magazine by Randy Noles

A special thanks to Donna Borko, First Congregational Church of Winter Park Historian, for the only existing biographical sketch of Elizabeth (Robbins) Hooker prepared in 1983 and located in the church archives.

Interesting documents:

"The approaching marriage of Rev. Mr. Hooker, of Middlebury, to Miss Lizzie Robbins, adopted daughter of Professor Robbins, is exciting considerable interest in Middlebury. Miss Phelps, author of the " Gates Ajar," is to be one of the bridesmaids."

The obituary of Mrs. Elizabeth (Robbins) Hooker.

OBITUARY. MRS. ELIZABETH (ROBBINS) HOOKER. As announced in last week's Register, Mrs. Elizabeth Hooker, widow of Rev. Edward P. Hooker, died in Dorchester, Mass., on July 29, at the age of 67 years. Mrs. Hooker had been ill with various complaints for the past two years and was also suffering from the results of a broken hip. Mrs. Hooker was originally Miss Elizabeth Robbins of Middlebury and was the niece and foster-daughter of Prof. Renselaer David Chanceford Robbins, who half a century ago was a great factor in the life and activities of Middlebury college. After his graduation from Middlebury in 1835 at the head of a class of 34, Prof. Robbins taught school in Georgia and Royalton, this state, from 1835 to 1837 and in the Andover (Mass.) Theological seminary from 1837 to 1841. Next he was a tutor in Middlebury for two years, after which he served as librarian at Andover until 1848 when he returned to Middlebury and assumed charge of the Greek and Latin departments of his Alma Mater. In 1866 Prof. Robbins resigned the Latin chair and was succeeded by the late Prof. Solon Albee, class of 1851. Mrs. Hooker was known in her youth here as Miss Lizzie Robbins and was one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies of her time. She was a friend to all the young folks and they were all friends to her. On September 6, 1871, Miss Robbins was married in the Middlebury Congregational church to Rev. Edward Payson Hooker, a graduate of Middlebury in the class of 1855, and who was at that time pastor of the church in which he was married, and which position he held from 1870 to 1880. Later, from 1880 to 1883 Mr. Hooker was pastor of a church at Lawrence, Mass., and at Winter Park, Florida, he held a similar position from 1883 to 1898 and was president of Rollins College at Winter Park from 1885 to 1892. During the years 1857 and 1858 Prof. Hooker acted as a tutor at Middlebury and in addition to the ordinary degrees in course, he was given the degree of Doctor of Divinity by his Alma Mater in 1881. Dr. Hooker died in Marshfield, Mass., six years ago and was buried in Middlebury in the West cemetery. The remains of his widow were brought here last Thursday afternoon and placed beside those of her husband, funeral services having been held in the chapel of Mt. Vernon Congregational church at Dorchester on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 31. There were six children born to Mr. and Mrs. Hooker, and they are all alive and doing well.

Elizabeth birthed six (6) children, Elizabeth Robbins, Emily Griswold, Mary Stuart, David Ashley, Stuart Van Renselaer and Edward Clarendon. All were born in Vermont.

WELCOME – MAGEN VALLILLO

Magen Vallillo grew up and was confirmed at First Congregational Church. She is a graduate of Rollins College where she majored in Psychology and minored in Philosophy and Religion. Magen and Michael Vallillo II have been married for 18 years and have two sons, Mikey III & Max. They live in the Springs neighborhood in Longwood and spend most weekends either swimming in the spring or traveling for the boys' swim meets.

Magen recently graduated from Aurora University with a Masters in Social Work. Next spring, she will graduate from Chicago Theological Seminary with a Masters in Divinity. It is her hope to receive a call through the UCC and become an ordained minister. She has completed her time in Clinical Pastoral Education where she served as a chaplain and worked with NICU, Labor and Delivery and Oncology. In her first internship she worked with survivors of sexual trafficking and in her second internship with students at a local high school. She is now employed, full-time, as a counselor of New Horizons and specializes working with children and adolescents who have experienced trauma. Eventually Magen will open her own practice and continue to serve in this way.

Magen is thrilled to be back in her home church, and she is grateful for all the support and guidance First Congregational Church, and its parishioners, have offered her and her family over the last eight months.
